MAMMOTH LOSES ITS CASE.

dge Marshall in the federal court erday morning handed down a dein the Mammoth-Grand Central

"The plaintiff bases its right to the ortion of the vein in controversy, viz.; hat part beneath the surface of the Silveropolis and Consort mining claims, on the alleged fact that the apex of this vein is found in the Jenkins Golden King and Bradley mining claims. There was no determination as to this fact in the former suit, so that the decree in that suit is not a bar, unless the two suits are upon the same claim or cause of action.

"The contention of the plaintiff is that in the former suit it sought to quiet the title to lot 38 alone, that it now seeks to quiet its title to certain news of a new and important ke that was made in the intermete tunnel workings during his stay he mine. For a distance of 160 feet the main workings the force has a drivining through a lime "horse." Sunday its limits were passed, and sew inches of nice ore made its aprance. At the end of three shifts' k, the judge reports, the few inches in the distinct parcels of land. The argument, I think, is fallacious. The owner of a mining claim owns not only all lying vertically beneath his surface which has not been reserved or carved out of his claim and granted to others, but also, he may own a vein which, on its it widened out to nine feet of solid, the quality of which, he said, was ter than anything heretofore opened the mine.

appeared to carry but very little, with the lead contents correspondiy increased. He had received no drom Superintendent Gitsch yesday when the news was given, but felt positive from the appearance the ground when he left Monday ernoon, that the body of ore was wider yesterday.

The readjustments in the mill are that all completed, and from now on lige Snyder expects to see the compy earn good money. Additional parhars concerning the strike are promitted.

COMSTOCK'S NEW MILL.

In so laim and granted to others, but also, he may own a vein which, on its dip beyond the bounding planes of his claim extended downward vertically is, by his ownership, severed from the estate of the owners of the strata surrounding it. It is a distinct entity, and capable of being described without reference to the claim in which its apex lies. The former suit was to determine the title to a designated portion of this entity; not to determine the title to it 38.

"If the plaintiff erred in the theory lit advanced in the former suit, it must be corrected, if at all, on appeal.

"As the sworn answer to the plea alleges that the plaintiff has acquired no right in the vein in orthory every since the plaintiff of the former suit and as the plaintiff has acquired no right in the vein in orthory every of the former suit of the former suit of the former suit of the former suit or the plaintiff has acquired no right in the vein in calima as dip, widely departs from his claim as on its dip beyond the bounding planes of his claim as of his claim as

It is also well known the defendant company reorganumber the laws of Colorado, and idenied the right of the state courts ry and decide the case.

Then the plaintiff company filed new dings in the district court the delant answered and later entered a fin the same action in the federal it. The plaintiff company then seed a temporary restraining order presented its case in the federal to precisely as it had done in the state court, asking that the defendant corporation be enjoined from extracting ores from the vein in dispute and asking that damages be assessed for the ores previously taken.

By the decision rendered yesterday the plaintiff is practically thrown out of court, the Grand Central being free to mine the ground formerly in dispute, something it is no doubt doing by this time. In his review of the case, Judge Marshall got at the pith of the matter as follows:
